MILFORD, Conn. Joining the Subway menu are craveable new items and reimagined fan favorites that perfectly capture the best parts of fall in every bite.

Headlined by the all-new Baja Steak & Jack sandwich, Subway unveiled new Baja Chipotle and Peppercorn Ranch sauces, more flavorful twists on two of its most popular sandwich add-ons. The Caramel Apple Cookie is also returning for a limited time only to menus nationwide, alongside the new Lay's® Kettle Cooked Buffalo Chicken Dip flavored chip.

"The new menu updates for fall showcase the ongoing innovation our fans can expect as the brand continues its multiyear transformation journey that began in July with the Eat Fresh Refresh," said Carrie Walsh, Chief Marketing Officer, Subway. Two New Sauces: The new Baja Chipotle sauce is deep, smoky and spicy, flavored with chipotle and guajillo peppers, including notes of smoked paprika, cumin, oregano, garlic, onion and lime. For those who love a zesty and bright flavor, the new, creamy Peppercorn Ranch satisfies with buttermilk, black pepper, garlic, onion and herbs.

Delicious Snacks: Everyone's favorite gameday dip is joining Subway's starting lineup, as a chip. Subway and Frito-Lay® are proud to offer an exciting, limited-time-only flavor of Lay's Kettle Cooked chips. Lay's Kettle Cooked Buffalo Chicken Dip chips brings a buffalo sauce heat and cheesy richness in every crunchy bite.
